

Through circumstances beyond the control of the Alumni officers elected in 2000, the transfer of funds wasn't able to be completed in a timely manner. Therefore, there were limits to what could be accomplished in such little time. Let it be stated that NONE of the officers elected in 2000 or those elected in 2005 were at fault. For those to whom that reunion didn't meet their expectations, please allow us to extend a personal invitation to you to join us. We believe you won't be disappointed.

The Association makes no money from registration fees, which are only enough to cover most (but not quite all) of the reunion expenses. Given our country's current economic downturn, your Alumni officers have worked exhaustively to keep our prices the absolute lowest possible. However, the simple fact is that the cost of doing business has increased over the past five years. We certainly wish that the prices could be lower. After all, we have to pay for our attendance too. Please don't let a minimal price increase keep you from attending a GREAT reunion. Where else could you have a full day of fun for a mere $20?

How about serving as an Alumni officer? All offices are open for election for the next five-year term and only one of the current officers will be the Ex-Officio member. Your Alumni Association needs YOU! Contact us.

Why should I attend the reunion?

To laugh at other people.

To let other people laugh at you.

To rekindle an old flame.

The statute of limitations on library fines has expired.

The statute of limitations on past due lunch charges has expired.

You've been forgiven for that thing you did.

To see who's changed the most.

To see who's changed the least.

It's a good excuse to get in shape.

Because it's a good night out without kids or grandkids.

You'll laugh, cry and reminisce with some of your oldest friends.

Studies have shown that those who were initially hesitant about attending their reunions discover it was an event they wouldn't have missed!

You don't have to lie about your age.

Feel better realizing you are not the only one who has been married, divorced, married, divorced and/or is still looking.

To expand your networking opportunities.

To humor the committee; we are a deluded bunch of die-hards that think everyone should show up to appreciate all our efforts.

If you are coming to your first reunion, you will feel fully appreciated for finally showing up!

Television shows are in reruns until September.

You have run out of excuses for not attending!

Paris, Brittney or Lindsay won't be at this party.
